

Greetings from Naruvi Hospitals.

As a mark of respect for the current Covid-19 pandemic and the hardships the people are going through, we at Naruvi, have suspended our monthly newsletter, The Naruvi Print.

We are sure you missed reading the Naruvi Print as much as we miss creating it for all of you.

Work on the construction site is resuming. There is bound to be a delay in our launch date, which was earlier slated for the first week of July 2020. However, this delay as a result of the lockdown, is hopefully not going to be longer than the period of the lockdown.

We hope all of you are well. Stay well. Stay safe.

We will be back as soon as the COVID-19 lockdown is lifted.

Jai Hind
